2023 Assessment Institute in Indianapolis

The oldest and largest U.S. event focused on assessing and improving higher education

About the Institute

Hosted by IUPUI, the Assessment Institute is designed to provide opportunities for:

- individuals and teams from campuses and organizations new to higher education assessment and improvement to acquire fundamental knowledge about the field;

- individuals who have worked as leaders in assessment and improvement to share and extend their knowledge and skills; and

- those interested in assessment and improvement at any level or in any collegiate context to establish networks that serve as sources of support and expertise beyond the dates of the Institute.

Listen to the Leading Improvements in Higher Education Podcast

Leading Improvements in Higher Education is an award-winning podcast service of the Assessment Institute in Indianapolis. The podcast profiles people, initiatives, institutions, and organizations improving conditions in higher education. Join thought leaders for engaging discussions of enduring and emerging topics, themes, and trends affecting colleges and universities.

New seasons of the podcast debut annually during the Assessment Institute. Releases of 1-2 episodes per month profile the important work of assessment and improvement along with other topics of interest to the higher education community. If you know someone who may be interested in the podcast, please encourage them to give Leading Improvements in Higher Education a listen.

We also encourage listeners to check out episodes from previous seasons, many of which feature representatives from national associations, research organizations, and initiatives—a number of whom are partners of the Assessment Institute—sharing important ideas and trends from their various perspectives.

Listeners may access the podcast via common streaming services, podcast apps, or at our website, https://assessmentinstitute.iupui.edu/overview/podcast-episodes.html.
