

ePORTFOLIO

A lifelong, academic personal webpage for self-branding

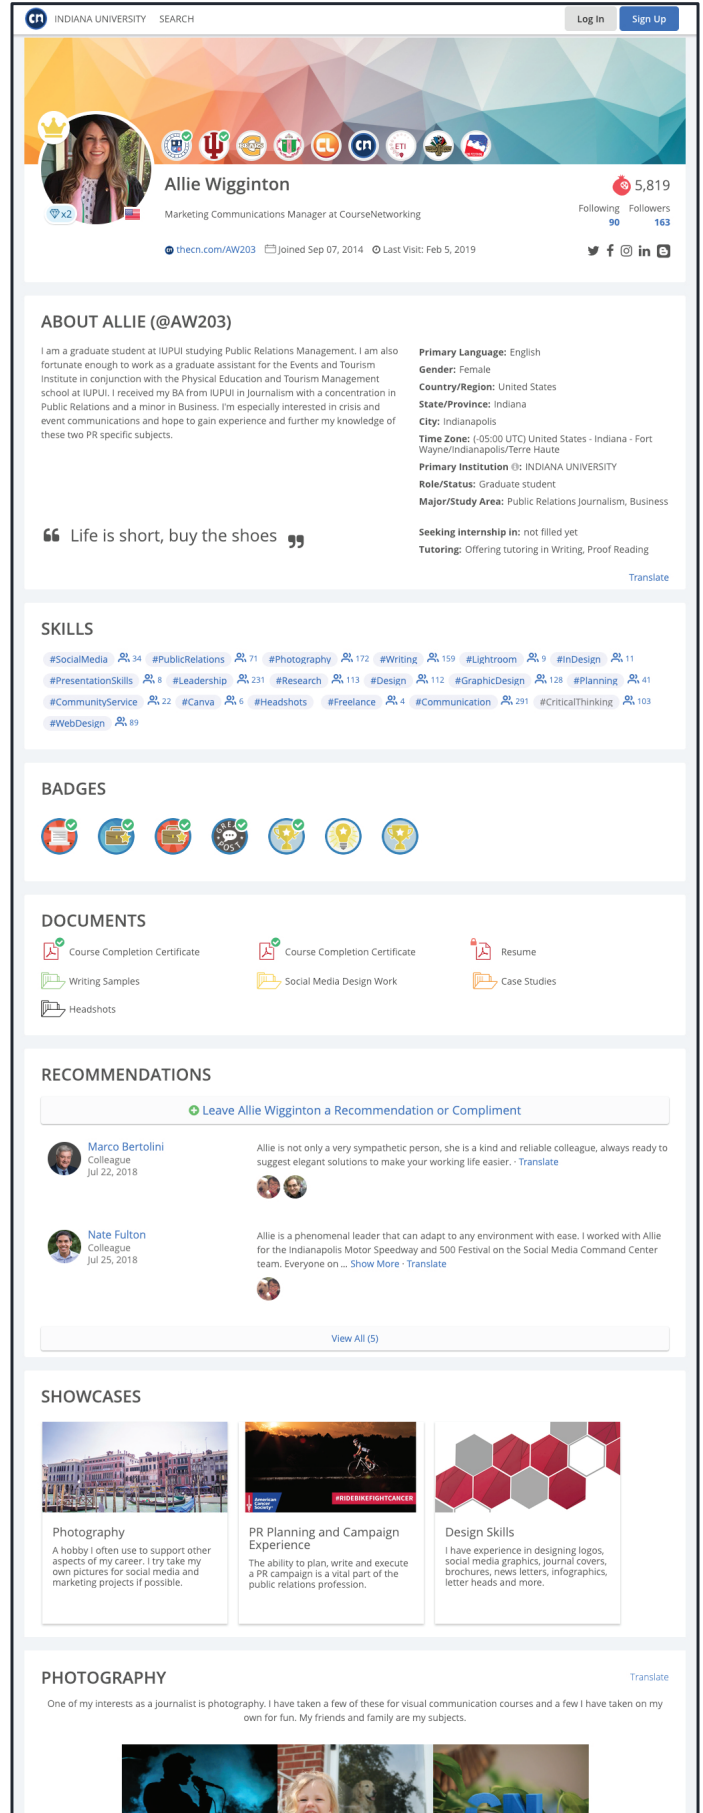

CourseNetworking (CN) offers a lifelong ePortfolio to students around the world. This next generation ePortfolio platform supports students to document their learning experiences, create their online branding, and network with others based on shared academic interests. CN ePortfolio enables new opportunities of learning reflection, assessment, and career development. We work with institutions around the world to integrate ePortfolio with their curricular and co-curricular programs to foster and demonstrate student success.

ABOUT ALLIE (@AW203)

I am a graduate student at IUPUI studying Public Relations Management. I am also fortunate enough to work as a graduate assistant for the Events and Tourism Institute in conjunction with the Physical Education and Tourism Management school at IUPUI. I received my BA from IUPUI in Journalism with a concentration in Public Relations and a minor in Business. I'm especially interested in crisis and event communications and hope to gain experience and further my knowledge of these two PR specific subjects.
